Palmistry And Career

The structure of palms, softness of different positions in the palm, the flexibilities of the fingers and the course of the palm lines reveal the career possibilities you have in your life. Career analysis through palmistry is mainly based on the idea of finding the most appropriate career field where the native will feel most comfortable and be most spontaneously proficient, considering his innate personality traits and fields of in-born interests as reflected by the palm lines.

The World In Your Palms

There are different types of hands with various palm sizes and shapes. The palmistry career profile for different shapes of hands or palms are discussed in the following chapters.

Square Hands

This is always a practical and a very useful hand. The individuals always remain humble and always want to achieve something more worthwhile in life. They make very good organizers. They remain quite thorough with their work; and their work being very systematic and precise. The best characteristics within them - they are very reliable and persistent.

These persons make very good administrators, lawyers, doctors, architect, politicians, executives and organizers of all kind. The Head Line also needs to be taken into account, whatever may be the shape of the hand. If the Head Line curves down into the Mount of Luna, then artistic and creative type of jobs will be ideal. Making of artistic products or being involved in music will prove to be good.

If the Head Line is straight, then the person will be more inclined towards a scientific and rational career.

Again if the Head Line is straight for a while and then drops downward, then it is indicative of the fact that the person is of a versatile nature. He will never stick to a particular decision and will be a fickle minded person. It is good for a square handed person to engage himself in a hobby which involves physical pursuits such as physical exercise or sports.

Spatulate Hands

The spatulate hands generally have a flair for action. They just hate to be idle. Energy and vitality are filled in the individuals with this type of hand. They love to generate projects and schemes of their own which develop naturally from their imaginative and creative minds. They excel as entrepreneurs and are often found in the sporting field. Moreover they are good in dance, teaching, therapy and counseling. They prefer to work independently.

If the Head Line is found to be sloping, then any sort of imaginative and creative job will be the best choice. Jobs like advertising, designing and interior decoration will suit well.

If the Head Line is somewhat straight, then a business of some kind will be suitable.

In short, the spatulate hand will be quite happy and fulfilled if he is given the scope to utilize his energies, learn new things and face up difficult challenges.

The Conic Hands

They are the emotional type of people who are very often governed by their emotional thoughts and feelings. They can make good use of their emotional feelings in a creative and artistic manner. Sensitive and intuitiveness are the keywords within them. They seem to understand people well and thus make good Public Relation Officers. They are also excellent organizers, but hard work is something which repels them. The other thing which these people hate is routine. Along with challenges, they love changes and variations in their job profile. Adaptability, talent for languages, charm and persuasion are the keywords within them.

If the Head Line is sloping, then it indicates that the person is of an imaginative nature and he will excel in careers involving art, music and literature.

A straight Head Line signifies the fact that the person is more of an organizing type and would do well and be happy in a career that involves organizing.

The Psychic Hands

The psychic hand is more of the Conic hand. The owner of psychic hands loves to be involved in anything that is related to art and music. These types of people too are sensitive. But it lacks in practicality and a humble nature. Careers related to art, music, writing, drawing, painting and designing suits the psychic hand people very well.
