Introduction

The Scorpio moon sign is characterized by unpredictability. The frequent mood swings of the scorpions make it hard to understand the relationship styles of the sting kings. The mysterious nature and behavioral pattern of the natives with Scorpio as their moon sign can take any relationship to the desired level. But there are principles that can explain the scorpion compatibility tendencies. Find out about Scorpio Moon Sign compatibility below in detail. ## Moon Scorpio & Moon Aries

In spite of occasional conflicts, you are passionate about each other. Attraction is excellent in your relationship. Strong emotional responses to people and situations are the assets for both of you. You always tend to express yourselves differently. Aries becomes frustrated and impatient rather easily and are prone to frequent, but short-lived, outbursts of temper; whereas Scorpio tries to hide emotional feelings and holds back anger for a long time. Scorpios are very direct in their emotional feelings and whatever be the feeling they do it wholeheartedly, whether it be love or hatred.

Moon Scorpio & Moon Taurus

Both the Taurus and the Scorpio zodiac personalities are extremely stubborn individuals, and neither will budge an inch from their positions in case of an argument. Both are opinionated and very set in their own special ways. As such, their conflicts and arguments will often assume gigantic proportions and will be deemed as intolerable. Both will tend to be suspicious of the other and be jealous of their partners, but in the end, both will understand the phases of insecurity they may be going through. This actually brings them closer to each other.

Moon Scorpio & Moon Gemini

Scorpio is very demanding and has a very powerful need and capability of sharing emotional needs and dependency. This demand may often prove to be more than the level of the Gemini to satisfy the same. Scorpio tries to hide emotional feelings and holds back anger for a long time and are very direct in their emotional feelings and whatever be the feeling they do it wholeheartedly, whether it be love or hatred. The emotional moves of the Scorpio partner tends to irritate the Gemini. Moreover, people, communication and socializing are something which attracts the Gemini. Scorpions are very introvert sort of people and the socializing nature of his/her partner makes them angry and annoying at times.

Moon Scorpio & Moon Cancer

Cancer and Scorpio, in the moon sign often make a very good pair and tend to form a relationship that is extremely stable. Both are emotional and intuitive individuals, and perfectly understand each other throughout. Cancer simply does not give any reason for the inherent Scorpio jealousy to creep up. This is why Scorpio, when he/she realizes this, becomes the provider in this relationship and comes to love and respect the Cancer. Scorpio works hard in the professional realm, and basically returns to the home seeking peace and calm at the end of the day. The Cancer partner will not disappoint the Scorpio in this regard, since he/she is perfectly suited for a domestic life.

Moon Scorpio & Moon Leo

The primary problem with a Scorpio and a Leo combination is that Scorpio is mysterious, who speaks in a very analytical manner, whereas Leo is straightforward and speaks whatever comes in mind at the slightest provocation. Scorpio is over demanding and over bearing, something which makes it difficult to relate to the Leo partner; who is so preoccupied with his/her own self. Conflict need not arise over these petty differences in your emotional and mental natures, so long you both understand and accept them. You are both very strong-willed and somewhat inflexible, and you insist on being yourselves despite the differences between you.

Moon Scorpio & Moon Virgo

Both these signs have a probing and analyzing personality. They also have the desire to improve and change themselves and others as well, for the better. You are born critics and thus your relationship is likely to witness a lot of arguments and resultant mental dissatisfaction. Scorpio always feels emotionally insecure, and has some very specific likes and dislikes, something that will certainly not go down well with the Virgo partner. On the other hand, Virgo has a frequent habit of retreating into a mystical, private world, something that annoys the firebrand Scorpio. This makes Scorpio very angry at times. The Scorpions will be very hurt to know that Virgo feels Scorpio deserves that discomfort in life.

Moon Scorpio & Moon Libra

Libra is basically a very friendly, sociable and agreeable sign. At the initial stage, Scorpio will declare unequivocal love for the Libra partner, and openly express the fact that he/she finds the Libra individual to be very attractive.

Although the Libra will notice the jealous possessiveness of the Scorpio, he/she will find that to be very romantic as well. However, after some time, Libra will begin to feel trapped in this relationship. And if he/she declares this openly, this is where the trouble starts and can go to any extent before it finally ends.

Moon Scorpio & Moon Scorpio

Scorpios boast of some extremely violent likes and dislikes. At the initial stage, due to their similar characteristics, both may feel a wild infatuation for each other, which may deepen into love later on. Suspicion and jealousy are things, which are ingrained into their nature, and these will also manifest themselves in their mutual relationship, however satisfying it may be. The male will try to dominate the family scenario as the likely breadwinner, and in case the female in this area challenges him, the fights are likely to begin. Often, they will be physical challenges that will be extremely harmful for all concerned.

Moon Scorpio & Moon Sagittarius

Sagittarius is well known for their independent and straight forward nature. The Scorpio's nature of manipulating things irritates them a lot. This is the first and foremost reason for the clash between the two.

Moreover the two of you are totally opposite and different in your characteristics, nature and your habitats. Being positive and thinking optimistic are the keywords of the Sagittarius; while the Scorpions are emotional and philosophical to a great extent.

Moon Scorpio & Moon Capricorn

Both are very quiet and introvert sort of people and always tend to repress their inner feelings. The initial reason why Scorpio becomes attracted to the Capricorn may be because of the former's liking for peace and calm. Capricorn is shocked when Scorpio's true nature comes to the forefront. The only area where both will agree is the realm of finance, since both have a hawk's eye for money, and like to save as much as possible for the future. Being vulnerable and out of control is something which you both fear. This very feeling prevents you from completely opening yourselves up to each other and as a result your relationship will be harmonious together.

Moon Scorpio & Moon Aquarius

The problem with a Scorpio and Aquarius alliance begins when the highly emotional Scorpio tries to treat the Aquarius as personal property. When the latter does not agree to such tactics, the inherent Scorpio jealousy will rear its ugly head. It is then that the situation becomes truly sad for the Aquarian partner, and he/she will start to wonder why he/she chose the Scorpio partner in the first place to fall in love with. The emotional unresponsiveness of the Aquarian will hurt the Scorpio to a great extent.

Moon Scorpio & Moon Pisces

Both of you have an excellent sixth sense which helps you in understanding the feeling within you both. Scorpio and Pisces may indeed form a very good partnership for a strange reason – both of them are practical minded, and both are governed by a strong sense of emotion. Though you both have a compassionate and deep feeling for each other but it won't ever be shown on your face. Music is something which you both have an affinity for. Finances are taken care of entirely by Scorpio and Pisces happily lets him/her to lead the way in this direction. Sexually, Pisces is only too keen to fulfill the active Scorpio appetite, but simultaneously, is not able to take in any criticisms as well.
